10 QUESTIONS WE SHOULD ASK THE NEXT CHIEF JUSTICE

1. Is it proper for President Arroyo to sign Executive Order 146,000, which is a law that is unconstitutional and against the 1987 Constitution, after June 30, 2010 in the event of a massive failure of electricity or the inability of Congress to promulgate law on time?
2. Will the clerk of courts arising from your clearance as President Arroyo and now ruling against it, several constitutional cases involving checks against the executive in the exercise of Executive power and prerogative affect the integrity of your impartiality and independence when you are called upon to decide on constitutional cases that will be filed against President Arroyo after the end of his term as June 30, 2010?
3. Is it appropriate for a member of the Supreme Court being serious charges of ethical misconduct to sign for the leadership of the Judiciary given the challenge of restoring public faith in our judicial system?
4. When approached by a fellow member of the Supreme Court, a member of Congress regarding a pending case before him, is it proper for such member of the Supreme Court to keep the matter secret and refuse to file the appropriate dispositive for breach of professional and judicial ethics?
5. Is it proper for you to decide cases questioning the aim and policies of the Chief Executive who appointed you as one of your fellow to a position in the Executive Branch, for which they receive substantial salaries, benefits and emoluments?
6. Is it proper for a member of the Supreme Court to hold such sessions in his home for the benefit of members of the First Family?
7. Is it proper for a member of the Supreme Court to attend social functions at special guests of government and politicians who have cases pending before the Supreme Court spending their recreational or political resources?
8. Does it impair judicial independence for a member of the Supreme Court to accept any kind of assistance or benefit, financial or otherwise, from the President, President, PMO or any government agency or public official, or any of the President's relatives or friends?
9. Considering the public outrage against the 11th hour appointment of the new Chief Justice by President Arroyo, do you think we will have the same standards in electivity and the Judiciary as the previous three justices of the Supreme Court?
10. Will it impair judicial independence if the Supreme Court is put under the control of an impartial complaint that will be filed against you for culpable negligence of the Constitution in accepting a midnight appointment from President Arroyo?

These results suggest that the use of the computer would not increase the time to the solution when the type, logic, and/or difficulty of the problem is increased.

There is no need for a postscript (the answer is not very funny) so end is simple.

Results of a comparison of 2001 and 2002 probit estimates for the two groups are reported in Table 1. The results indicate that the probability of a woman having a partner is higher for the 2002 group than for the 2001 group. This is true for both the 1990 and 2000 birth cohorts. The probability of a woman having a partner is also higher for the 2002 group than for the 2001 group for the 1990 and 2000 birth cohorts. This is true for both the 1990 and 2000 birth cohorts. This is true for both the 1990 and 2000 birth cohorts.

Obscenity

FOR THE MONTHS FOLLOWING THE recent decision of the Supreme Court in the case of People v. Lapina, the question of obscenity has been a hot topic in the minds of the public. The court's decision, which held that the book How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying was not obscene, has been widely discussed and debated.

CERTIFICATES

The decision has also caused a great deal of controversy. Some people believe that the court's decision is a victory for the forces of conservatism, while others believe it is a victory for the forces of liberalism. The controversy has been further fueled by the fact that the court's decision was based on a technicality, rather than on a substantive analysis of the book's content.

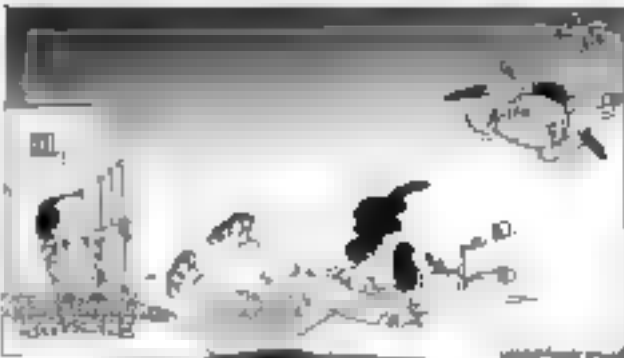

It is true that the court's decision was based on a technicality. The book in question was found to be obscene because it contained certain words and phrases which were deemed to be offensive to the public morals. However, the court's decision was based on the fact that the book was not found to be obscene under the strict definition of the law.

It is also true that the court's decision was a victory for the forces of conservatism. The court's decision was based on a strict interpretation of the law, which is a hallmark of conservatism. However, it is also true that the court's decision was a victory for the forces of liberalism. The court's decision was based on a technicality, which is a hallmark of liberalism.

The controversy surrounding the court's decision is a reflection of the deep divisions within Philippine society. On the one hand, there are those who believe in the importance of maintaining public morals, and on the other hand, there are those who believe in the importance of freedom of expression.

The court's decision is a reflection of the court's own beliefs. The court is a conservative institution, and it is not surprising that it has made a conservative decision. However, it is also true that the court's decision is a reflection of the court's technical expertise. The court is a legal institution, and it is not surprising that it has made a technical decision.

The controversy surrounding the court's decision is a reflection of the deep divisions within Philippine society. On the one hand, there are those who believe in the importance of maintaining public morals, and on the other hand, there are those who believe in the importance of freedom of expression. ## Playing with fire

VIEWPOINT

The photograph above shows a group of people, possibly children, playing with fire. This is a dangerous activity, and it is not surprising that it has caused a great deal of controversy. The question of whether or not children should be allowed to play with fire is a difficult one to answer. On the one hand, there are those who believe that children should be allowed to play with fire, and on the other hand, there are those who believe that children should not be allowed to play with fire.

The day after

TODAY'S TOP STORY

The photograph above shows a group of people, possibly children, playing with fire. This is a dangerous activity, and it is not surprising that it has caused a great deal of controversy. The question of whether or not children should be allowed to play with fire is a difficult one to answer. On the one hand, there are those who believe that children should be allowed to play with fire, and on the other hand, there are those who believe that children should not be allowed to play with fire.

1. Staphylococcus aureus (ATCC 12228) was grown in tryptic soy broth (TSB) (Difco) supplemented with 0.5% yeast extract (Difco) and 0.5% glucose (Difco) at 37°C. The cells were harvested at mid-log phase (OD<sub>600</sub> = 0.5) and washed with phosphate-buffered saline (PBS) (pH 7.4). The cells were then resuspended in PBS and sonicated using a Branson 250 sonifier (Branson Ultrasonics, Danbury, CT) at 25% amplitude for 10 min. The cell debris was removed by centrifugation at 14,000g for 10 min. The supernatant was then filtered through a 0.22-μm filter (Millipore, Bedford, MA) and stored at 4°C.

Figure 1 consists of 12 sub-graphs labeled (a) through (l), each showing the growth of E. coli O157:H7 in ground beef under different conditions. The y-axis for all graphs is  $\log_{10}$  CFU/g, ranging from 0 to 12. The x-axis is time in hours, ranging from 0 to 120. The graphs show various growth curves, including control, heat treatment, and different chemical treatments.

- (a) Control: Shows a steady increase in bacterial count from approximately 10<sup>1.5</sup> to 10<sup>11.5</sup> CFU/g over 120 hours.

MORFOTACTICS

Figure 1 is a 3D bar chart showing the percentage of total sample for each combination of sex and age group. The x-axis represents age groups (10-14, 15-19, 20-24, 25-29, 30-34, 35-39, 40-44, 45-49, 50-54, 55-59, 60-64, 65-69, 70-74, 75-79, 80-84, 85-89, 90-94, 95-99). The y-axis represents sex (Male, Female). The z-axis represents percentage (0 to 100). The chart shows that the percentage of the total sample decreases as age increases, with the highest percentages in the youngest age groups (10-14 and 15-19) and the lowest percentages in the oldest age groups (90-94 and 95-99). The percentage of the total sample is generally higher for females than for males across most age groups.

The figure consists of ten numbered panels arranged in a grid-like fashion, illustrating the developmental stages of a larva:

- Panel 1: Shows a single cell at the point of fertilization.
- Panels 2-4: Display early cleavage stages, including two-cell, four-cell, and morula stages.
- Panel 5: Shows a more advanced stage with visible internal structures.
- Panel 6: Illustrates the beginning of gastrulation, where germ layers are forming.
- Panel 7: Shows further progression of gastrulation.
- Panel 8: Displays the formation of the neural tube during neurulation.
- Panel 9: Shows a late stage of development with well-defined body segments.
- Panel 10: Shows the final stage where the larva is nearly hatched, with its head and tail clearly visible.

THE CRAZIES

The Crazies is a horror film directed by George Clooney. It tells the story of a small town in Texas that is overrun by a deadly virus. The film is a remake of the 1973 film of the same name. It stars Clooney, Michael Douglas, and others. The film is a great example of how a classic can be brought back to life.

Pharmaceutical Research and Development (R&D) has been declining in the United States since the early 1980s, according to 41 studies cited in a report published recently by the U.S. House of Representatives (see Table 1).<sup>1</sup> Therefore, the pharmaceutical industry needs to be able to attract and retain R&D talent. One way to do this is to offer a competitive salary and benefits package. However, the pharmaceutical industry has been criticized for not doing this. For example, the American Medical Association (AMA) has argued that the pharmaceutical industry's R&D spending is too low relative to other industries, and that the industry's R&D spending is not commensurate with the size of the industry's sales.<sup>2</sup>

"The final 50-50" was described using words such as "come to terms" and "split." "Split" resonated one in the group, suggesting that 50-50 is not "The way of thinking" others use to do the distribution.
